

MINER HANGS HIMSELF IN CELL OF LOCKUP

Pricedale Man Believed
to Have Been Des-
pondent at Arrest

WOMAN IN THE CASE

Married Woman Elopes With
Present Dead Man—Her
Husband Brings Suit

Disappointed it is stated at the outcome of a love affair with another man's wife, Joe Ochie, aged 25 years, of Pricedale, hanged himself in the North Belle Vernon lockup this morning. He had been placed there Thursday evening, after having been arrested at Homestead, on a charge preferred by Joe Morini, of Pricedale, with whose wife Ochie is alleged to have eloped to Cleveland, Ohio, this week.

When cut down the body of the man was still warm, showing that he had not been dead many minutes. This was at about 7 o'clock. Discovery of the dead body was made by Officer J. W. Tiley, of North Belle Vernon.

Around Ochie's neck was his belt. It was attached to a bar at the top of the cell. It is not thought that Ochie had hung in the position very long until life was extinct.

The story is told that Ochie, who was a Hungarian miner employed at one of the mines back of Belle Vernon, became "sweet" on the wife of his boarding boss, Morini. It is told that he persuaded her to leave with him for Cleveland this week. Leaving her there, he returned to Belle Vernon to procure some of their belongings. He managed to obtain what he went after and then headed for Homestead. Authorities at the downriver town were notified and the arrest there was made by Constable R. M. Andrews. Adultery was the charge preferred against him. He was brought back to be placed over night in the North Belle Vernon lockup. It is supposed he became despondent and fearful and adopted hanging as a convenient method to end his life.

It is probable no further action will be taken in the case. Morini says, according to Belle Vernon people that he will not try to get his wife back, being satisfied to have her remain in Cleveland, if she wishes.

HE ASKS FOR DIVORCE

The testimony taken before a commissioner in the divorce proceedings of William Brock against his wife, Violet Wilson Brock, of Fredericktown, has been filed and the case placed on the argument list.

The couple were married at Gillespie, Fayette county, December 13, 1908, and have lived at Fredericktown where Mr. Brock is employed at the Vesta Coal company. He alleges cruel and barbarous treatment. In the testimony filed Mr. Brock sets forth that his wife flew into a passion one day and bit and struck him and at other times she had thrown dishes at his head from the table; that the clothes brush had been hurled at his head, and that she often cursed and swore at him. He also states that upon one occasion she tore his shirt from his back and beat him and clawed his face. He further alleges that she hit him over the head upon one occasion with a large meat plate.

The testimony also shows that Mr. Brock returned one day and discovered his wife in an intoxicated condition and later a man in the same condition was pulled from the upstairs of their home by an officer. The intoxicated man declared that he had got into the wrong house. The testimony also shows that on May 30, this year, the respondent attempted to commit suicide by taking carbolic acid.

In closing his testimony Mr. Brock states that his wife had spit in his face and that she inherits a peculiar disposition from her parents.

BIG COAL SALES ARE REPORTED IN GREENE

J. V. Thompson Reported to be Negotiating for Immense Block of Coal in Monongahela
and Cumberland Township

Big purchases of coal land and surface, the consideration for which will aggregate several hundred thousand dollars, have been made by J. V. Thompson, of Uniontown, on Muddy Creek, in Cumberland township, Greene county, the past week. Other purchases are likely to follow those already made. This coal land is being secured from the original owners of the farms, who have held out for a price of $800 or more, per acre, for their coal, and they are getting that price now.

Of the tracts already purchased Mr. Thompson has secured from T. H. Hawkins 95 acres of coal; from James O. Christopher 105 acres of coal; from the Hamilton sisters 178 acres of coal and surface, these all adjoining, while from J. Ewing Bailly he has purchased two large tracts of surface, being already the owner of the coal underlying them. One of these tracts is known as the John Dowlin farm, and contains 275 acres, while the other contains 54 acres, and was purchased by Mr. Bailly from Charles Gregg. These farms are on the south branch of Muddy creek 1 1/4 miles west of the Bailly school house, and will make an ideal location for a coke plant, as there is a large amount of fine bottom land. The price for the surface is said to be $90 per acre.

It is reliably reported that J. V. Thompson will close soon the sale of a large block of coal in Cumberland and Monongahela townships, 5,000 acres or more, for a consideration of several million dollars. The coal block extends west as far as Khe-dive. This coal is being bought by operators, who are also taking the surface purchased, and it is said to be their intention to begin operations soon.

This deal of Mr. Thompson's will be one of the largest he has ever made in coal acreage and is likely to open the market for other Greene county acreage west of this block.

CAMPMEETING SCRAPS WILL REACH COURT

As an aftermath of the campmeeting at Bentleyville several lawsuits will likely follow. Campmeeting has been held for 66 years where thousands of persons attended every year.

The campmeeting association claims the exclusive privilege under a state law of conducting the eating house and claims that no person has a right to set up a restaurant within one mile of the grounds.

This year J. W. Piersol rented a piece of ground near the Camp grounds to William Applegate to conduct an eating stand after securing a mercantile license. It is claimed that the business he did injured the trade at the hotel on the grounds and as a result Clara Clinton, of Pittsburg, who conducted the hotel, has refused to pay all of her rent alleging that the association did not protect her.

Suit has been brought against Applegate before Alderman Day of Monongahela. Applegate has taken the case into court.

Many of the places of business were open Sunday and did a thriving business.

FURNACE FIRED AT MONESSEN

Miss Bindley Applies
Torch to No. 2 at
Mill Plant

IS FORMAL PROCEEDING

Further evidence of the substantial future of this district as a steel center was demonstrated at Monessen Thursday when Miss Adelaide B. Bindley, daughter of Vice President John Bindley of the Pittsburg Steel company, applied the torch to blast furnace No. 2 of the steel company's plant. The ceremony was witnessed by many captains of the steel industry of the Pittsburg district, who came to this city on a special train from Pittsburg.

Three weeks last Tuesday a torch was applied to furnace No. 1 by Miss Sarah Rowe, daughter of President Wallace H. Rowe of the steel company. By the building of these furnaces the Pittsburg Steel Company has become entirely independent in regard to its supply of raw material and the company is now in a position to use its own supply from the ore to finished products.

The furnaces are modern and have been built at a cost of approximately $4,000,000. More than 16 months was consumed in the completion of the furnaces. The furnaces are 90 feet in height, 22 feet 6 inches in the bore, and have a 16-foot wall. The output will be 40,000 tons of open-hearth basic steel ingots per month, or 70 cars per day.

The lighting of the furnace was witnessed by a party of steel men, who came to Monessen on the special train of J. B. Yohe, general manager of the Pittsburg & Lake Erie railroad, and a large number of employees of the company. The party left Pittsburg at 9 a. m. and arrived there at 10:30 o'clock. At 11 o'clock Miss Bindley ascended a platform

"Morning Star" Burnt to Water's Edge at Monongahela

JUST BACK FROM TRI

Flames Discovered Just After Excursionists Had Left
Klein Steamer

The excursion steamer, "Morning Star" owned and operated by J. F. Klein, of Pittsburg, was burnt to the water's edge at Monongahela this morning shortly after midnight. It had just returned from an excursion trip up the Monongahela river to North Charleroi and had just gotten off the crowd when the flames broke out. Efforts of the fire department of Monongahela proved unavailing to save the boat.

The cause of the fire is unknown. It originated in the check room, according to the story told by excursionists and by boatmen. All the men employed on the boat had hastened off when the flames were discovered. Before the excursionists had gone hardly more than two square feet from the wharf, the alarm was turned in. By the time the fire department arrived the entire upper part of the boat was in flames.

Capt. Thomas Daly was in charge of the boat, though Mr. Klein himself was along. The excursion was being conducted by John Weber, of Castle Shannon, who is well known in Charleroi.

The "Morning Star" is the old "Island Queen," that was used for years in the excursion trade along the Monongahela valley. This summer the "Morning Star" carried the Elks excursion party from Charleroi to Brownsville.

The loss to Mr. Klein is not given. It is known that part insurance was carried on the boat. It is understood that the hull is still good and work comes from Monongahela that Mr. Klein will rebuild.

Denna Legong
Following an operation for appendicitis Denna Legong, of Granville, the 12-year-old daughter of Edward Legong, died at the Charleroi-Monessen hospital Thursday morning at 7 o'clock. The little girl had been ill of appendicitis and Wednesday at 11 o'clock she was taken to the hospital for an operation. She failed to rally. She was born in Belgium and came to this country with her parents when very young. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The interment was in the Highland cemetery.

Those folks who assert that happiness is only a frame of mind are at any time willing to exchange places with John D.

and applied the torch amid the applause of the crowd. A short tour of part of the plant was made and at noon a buffet lunch was served in the office building, at the conclusion of which the party made an inspection tour of the huge plant, going through the mills while all were running full. At 3:45 o'clock the return trip to Pittsburg was made.

THE THAW MONEY IN CANADA

It is a comfort, in a way, remarks
the New York Times to know that the law and the lawyers, the magistrates, the constables and the alienists of Canada can be as easily bedeviled by the Thaw money as our own. For more than seven years this worthless degenerate has been a scandal and a nuisance here, and more than once, when it has seemed that he might perhaps be set free, he has been a public menace.

The Thaw family pouring out money to help this homicidal and incurable maniac to get his freedom, has been entirely reckless of public safety and public decency; it has seemed to be bent upon bringing further affliction upon itself by giving Thaw an opportunity to commit new crimes. And now, when its money has at length made successful a criminal plot to deliver Thaw from Matteawan, it is making a grotesque spectacle of the courts and the government of Canada, just as it has formerly done here.

The cross roads alienists who are ready for a suitable fee, to declare Thaw sane in Canada, speak with just as much authority as the alienists here who declared him sane. Nothing but the fee would make any alienist look upon Thaw's present daily behavior as that of a sane man. But the question remains whether a huddle
of lawyers clutching at the Thaw money, just as the lawyers have clutched at it here for so many years,
will be able to obstruct the course of right and justice among a people so hardheaded as the Canadians.
That Thaw, once inside the walls of Matteawan, should never in all his life have seen again the outside of those walls is, of course, the conviction of every sensible person in New York. It is the hope of every such person that he will speedily be shut up again in Matteawan and kept there. But meanwhile he is carrying on a "publicity" campaign to gain sympathy for himself in Canada, and men who appear to be of good standing there, men not usually in sympathy with criminals and maniacs are aiding and abetting his purpose.

CIGARETTES IN SCHOOL

In his annual report to the school directors, Superintendent J. N. Adeo, of Johnstown, makes some intensely interesting observations as to the use of cigarettes by boys in the public schools below the high school says the Washington Record. His conclusions are that tobacco has a direct and powerful effect toward retardation of pupils, as shown by the fact that,

with lessening use of tobacco, retardation diminishes also. It is also shown by the table of figures that the highest percentage of retarded pupils is present where the greatest number of smokers is found.

The report of the superintendent is of special interest in connection with his announced determination to secure the rigid enforcement of the state law against the use of tobacco by minor children this year. The members of the teaching force are to assist in this regard, and a determined effort is to be made to stamp out the cigarette habit among boys.

In his campaign against the cigarette in the schools the superintendent ought to have the support and co-operation of many of the members of the teaching force, but of the parents and friends of pupils, as well.
The flames brought to light by the investigations of the superintendent show conclusively that there is a direct relation between the use of tobacco by young boys and their inability to keep up with their classmates. As the retarding of a pupil for even a single year means the loss of a year of the child's life in an economic sense, and puts the burden of another year of education on the taxpayers, the value of the campaign against the cigarette is apparent. The law against the cigarette should be enforced rigidly, for its enforcement means a positive gain in dollars and cents to the community as a whole.

PICKED UP IN PASSIN

"Will somebody please tell me where to find a corn doctor?" It was a stranger who asked the question of a group of men at a street corner.
Nobody answered for a moment.
"Find a drug store, they can tell you," one suggested.

"Aw, rats, what do I want with a drug store. They all want to sell me corn cure, and I want my corn chopped out."

"My corn has been troubling me severely all day, and I want relief," he went on.

"Is it as bad as that. Well you have our sympathy," was the response.

"Oh, yes, but it is always that way.
It is going to rain tomorrow, so my corn hurts."

That was Thursday afternoon, and everybody around here knows how true his prediction was and how it rained on Friday.

Of course, the dealer was to blame.
At any rate, that's what the buyer in common with another buyer of horses thought. The mare in question, he declared, had been sold to him as being sound in mind and limb—without a fault, in fact.

"Without a fault, indeed! Why, the poor beast—so the outraged buyer now discovered to his sorrow—was blind in one eye, and could see with the other only very indistinctly, if at all."

Accordingly, he wrote in righteous
heavy judgment or his business methods and his honesty.

Many such letters had the dealer received during his career; but this one was to him, so quite delightful and ingenious that he deigned to answer it.

"My dear sir," he wrote. "You seem to blame me for the mare's blindness. This is most unjust. The fault is not mine nor, indeed, is it hers. On the contrary, blindness is,
and always has been, her great misfortune."

Faints on Street

Just discharged from the Memorial hospital, Monongahela, where he had been taken but a short time before, Harry Vernon walked to Charleroi Thursday to be afflicted by sunstroke about as quickly as he got here. He was cared for by the police. His home is in Denver, Col., and he has been trying to locate a job since the breaking up of a circus with which he was attached. He is a former hotel clerk.

The Demon Barber.

The story of the "demon barber," his misdirected energy and undue personal attention to customers, a story that has been made famous in ballad and on the stage, was this: He lived at 138 Fleet street, London, next to St. Dunstan's church. Under his shaving chair there was a trapdoor. When Mr. Todd, making some excuse left his customer—or client, for this is now the genteel term—and went into an adjoining room he drew a bolt. The trapdoor turned over and threw the customer into a cellar. There he was murdered, and his body was made into mutton pies, which were sold at a neighboring shop at a reasonable price and much relished. This story was believed by all for many years, and Dickens mentions it in "Martin Chuzzlewit," yet it was without foundation.

CHURCH SPAT ENDS IN THE COUNTY COURT

O. B. McAdoo, Clarence H. Smith, Robert Miller and T. B. Narrigan, prominent citizens of Donegal township, charged with disturbing a religious meeting at Du. Fork Christian church, Sunday, August 17, were discharged after a hearing before Justice J. W. Ralston in the public meeting room in the court house Thursday. Out of 20 witnesses summoned but 10 were called to the stand to give testimony. The public meeting room was crowded, there being a large number of spectators from the Donegal Fork section.

The charge against the four men came out of a factional contest among the members of the Dutch Fork congregation, one of which is opposed to Rev. T. B. H. Teeple continuing as pastor, and the other standing with the reverend gentleman.

From the testimony adduced at the hearing it appeared that the board of trustees announced that on June 1 a congregational vote would be taken on the question for re-employing Rev. Mr. Teeple for another year. On that date, it appeared, Trustee William Daugherty, who laid the charge against the men discharged by Justice Ralston, and who is a strong adherent of the pastor, announced to the congregation in substance that it had been agreed to re-employ Rev. Mr. Teeple for another year, if he was willing to accept, and there was no objection.

The evidence showed that on August 6 the opponents of Pastor Teeple held a congregational meeting and it was decided to submit the question to the congregation for a vote on August 17, the date on which the discharged members were alleged to have broken up worship. The record of the vote taken on that date shows 42 votes against retaining Rev. Mr. Teeple and 2 in his favor. The pastors' friends claim that a number of them equal to those who participated in the balloting, refrained from voting, hence the vote on that date cannot be taken as decisive.

Magistrate Ralston before going into a hearing, suggested that the matter be submitted to a jury of six persons, but his suggestion was not accepted. The outcome of the hearing Thursday puts a temporary stop to hostilities, but future action is predicted. Both sides were represented by counsel.

MONTOUR ROAD OPPOSED BY A PROPERTY HOLDER

Injunction proceedings have been started by George Schnuth, of Peters township to restrain the Montour Railroad company from constructing its line through the farm of Mr. Schnuth. September 1 at 11 o'clock has been fixed for a preliminary hearing, and a cautionary restraining order is granted against the company until that time.

It appears that Mr. Schnuth has on his farm an up-to-date brick residence and the slopes, etc., of the new railroad come within 12 feet of the porch of the house, and cuts off all ingress and egress. The company filed a bond for damages in the case some time ago, as they came onto the land and condemned it by the right of eminent domain.

RELEASE FROM LIEN IS FILED

A release from a lien of judgment was filed Thursday by R. H. Rush of Charleroi, against M. E. Riggs. Mr. Rush obtained judgment in the courts for $8,000 and $5,000, and a lien was placed on certain real estate in Charleroi. The judgments have been satisfied and the liens released.

Gaelic is the language of the highlanders of Scotland. The name belongs also to the sister languages of Ireland and the Isle of Man, but these have other names more commonly applied to them—Irish and Manx—and the term Gaelic is usually reserved for that spoken in Scotland. The three languages were originally one and now stand in much the same relation to each other that broad Scotch does to King's English.

Involuntary Fasting.

A remarkable feat of involuntary fasting was performed twelve years ago by a corporal in a regiment of French colonial infantry. On his way to work one morning a man heard cries proceeding from a disused mine near Brest. At the bottom of an excavation nearly 100 feet deep Corporal Andre Desrats was found in so weak a condition that he could scarcely articulate a word. When he recovered his rescuers learned that after accidentally falling into the mine Desrats had been imprisoned for twenty-eight days without anything to eat or drink. But a pig can beat a man. Dr. W. B. Carpenter in his "Manual of Physiology" records that a pig weighing 160 pounds was entombed by the fall of a portion of the chalk cliffs at Dover. It was dug out 100 days later and found to be still alive, but reduced in weight to forty pounds.—London Mail

AMONG THE THEATRES

THE COYLE-CHARLEROI

With its favorite story, "Robinson Crusoe" was shown in a three reel special at the Coyle Theatre Tuesday night of this week, and it was the leading feature of the whole week's program. The tale of how Robinson Crusoe reached his island, where he lived for many tedious months a solitary existence, and showing how he and his man Friday got along, making their own clothing and getting from the land their own living, proved as thrilling or more thrilling in picture than in book form, and was very much enjoyed. There were other good features at the Coyle. On Monday a two-reel picture was presented "The Stranger," an Imp film. On the same night "Leopard Avenger" was shown in three reels. "Soul to Soul" was a two-reel film that was full of interest Wednesday night. Next week will be a good week at the Coyle, some unusually fine numbers having been programmed.

THE PALACE-CHARLEROI

The thrilling narrative of how a man justly angry as the result of interference in his domestic affairs performed a deed that he was imprisoned for, of his wonderful escape and flight to a point outside the country and of events of his life and the life of his daughter there, was told in the three-part film "The Folly of Crime" shown at the Palace theatre Monday night. After fleeing from the country the erstwhile prisoner lived an exemplary life, and finally his daughter was wooed and wed by a young business man. A criminal who had met the father of the girl in the penitentiary tried hard to spoil the love affair when he found he could not blackmail the father, but failed ignominiously. Preparations are being made for the opening of the vaudeville season about the latter part of September. Manager Barnhart is contemplating a number of improvements.

THE LYRIC-CHARLEROI

The Pathe Weekly and a two-reel Cines production, "Honor Thy Father" were two of the leading features this week at the Lyric Theatre. The two-reel production was on Monday night and the Pathe pictures were on Wednesday night. "Honor Thy Father" was a strong drama of love and fortune, in which an heiress, tied down by a will made upon a death bed of her closest relative, and her lover save her fortune and still wed. The Pathe pictures were views gathered from all parts of the world, starting with a convention at Brighton Beach, where the chief feature was marching of a large body of men. Emperor Joseph of Austria was shown but one of the most interesting pictures was that of the baseball scoreboard in front of the New York Sun office detailing a baseball game play by play. Thousands were shown watching the game. Every Wednesday night is Pathe night at the Lyric.

ALVIN-PITTSBURGH

That minstrelsy still holds a warm spot in the hearts of theatre-goers is best attested to by the success that has attended the revival of old time minstrelsy as presented by those veterans of the burnt cork, Primrose and Dockstader and their all-prominent aggregation of singers, dancers, comedians and instrumentalists. This attraction is scheduled to appear at the Alvin theatre on September 1, beginning with Labor day matinee. After a separation which had extended over a period of 10 years, those knights of the cork, decide to amalgamate their respective companies and present a revival of old time minstrelsy. This reunion and revival took place last year. Practically every city of importance in the United States and Canada were visited, and everywhere capacity audiences greeted them. In their revival of old time minstrelsy, Messrs. Primrose and Dockstader have adhered to all of the good old traditions, although the plain wooden benches and simple bones and tambourines have given away to sumptuous costumes and a large orchestra.

Pricedale Man Believed
to Have Been Des-
pondent at Arrest

WOMAN IN THE CASE

Married Woman Elopes With
Present Dead Man—Her
Husband Brings Suit

Disappointed it is stated at the outcome of a love affair with another man's wife, Joe Ochie, aged 25 years, of Pricedale, hanged himself in the North Belle Vernon lockup this morning. He had been placed there Thursday evening, after having been arrested at Homestead, on a charge preferred by Joe Morini, of Pricedale, with whose wife Ochie is alleged to have eloped to Cleveland, Ohio, this week.

When cut down the body of the man was still warm, showing that he had not been dead many minutes. This was at about 7 o'clock. Discovery of the dead body was made by Officer J. W. Tuley, of North Belle Vernon.

Around Ochie's neck was his belt. It was attached to a bar at the top of the cell. It is not thought that Ochie had hung in the position very long until life was extinct.

The story is told that Ochie, who was a Hungarian miner employed at one of the mines back of Belle Vernon became "sweet" on the wife of his boarding boss, Morini. It is told that he persuaded her to leave with him, for Cleveland this week. Leaving her there, he returned to Belle Vernon to procure some of their belongings. He managed to obtain what he wanted and then headed for Homestead. Authorities at the down river town were notified and the arrest there was made by Constable R. M. Andrews. Adultery was the charge preferred against him. He was brought back to be placed over night in the North Belle Vernon lockup. It is supposed he became despondent and fearful and adopted hanging as a convenient method to end his life.

It is probable no further action will be taken in the case Morini says, according to Belle Vernon people that he will not try to get his wife back, being satisfied to have her remain in Cleveland, if she wishes.

HE ASKS FOR DIVORCE

The testimony taken before a commissioner in the divorce proceedings of William Brock against his wife, Violet Wilson Brock, of Fredericktown, has been filed and the case placed on the argument list.

The couple were married at Gillespie, Fayette county, December 13, 1908, and have lived at Fredericktown where Mr. Brock is employed at the Vesta Coal company. He alleges cruel and barbarous treatment. In the testimony filed Mr. Brock sets forth that his wife flew into a passion one day and hit and struck him and at other times she had thrown dishes at his head from the table; that the clothes brush had been hurled at his head, and that she often cursed and swore at him. He also states that upon one occasion she tore his shirt from his back and beat him and clawed his face. He further alleges that she hit him over the head upon one occasion with a large meat plate.

The testimony also shows that Mr. Brock returned one day and discovered his wife in an intoxicated condition and later a man in the same condition was pulled from the upstairs of their home by an officer. The intoxicated man declared that he had got into the wrong house. The testimony also shows that on May 30, this year, the respondent attempted to commit suicide by taking carbolic acid.

In closing his testimony Mr. Brock states that his wife had spit in his face and that she inherits a peculiar disposition from her parents.

BIG COAL SALES ARE REPORTED IN GREENE

J. V. Thompson, Reported to be Negotiating for Immense Block of Coal in Monongahela
and Cumberland Township

Big purchases of coal land, and surface, the consideration for which will aggregate several hundred thousand dollars, have been made by J. V. Thompson, of Uniontown, on Monday Creek, in Cumberland township, Greene county, the past week. Other purchases are likely to follow those already made. This coal land is being secured from the original owners of the farms, who have held out for a price of $600 or more, per acre, for their coal, and they are getting that price now.

Of the tracts already purchased, Mr. Thompson has secured from T. H. Hawkins 95 acres of coal; from James O. Christopher 105 acres of coal; from the Hamilton sisters 178 acres of coal and surface, these all adjoining, while from J. Ewing Baily he has purchased two large tracts of surface, being already the owner of the coal underlying them. One of these tracts is known as the John Dowlin farm, and contains 275 acres, while the other contains 54 acres, and was purchased by Mr. Baily from Charles Gregg. These farms are on the south branch of Muddy creek 1 1/4 miles west of the Baily school house. The price for the surface is said to be $90 per acre.

It is reliably reported that J. V. Thompson will close soon the sale of a large block of coal in Cumberland and Monongahela townships, 3,000 acres or more, for a consideration of several million dollars. The coal block extends west as far as Khe-dive. This coal is being bought by operators, who are also taking the surface purchased, and it is said to be their intention to begin operations soon.

This deal of Mr. Thompson's will be one of the largest he has ever made in coal acreage and is likely to open the market for other Greene county acreage west of this block.

As an aftermath of the campmeeting at Bentleyville several law suits will likely follow. Campmeeting has been held for 66 years where thousands of persons attended every year.

The campmeeting association claims the exclusive privilege under a state law of conducting the eating house and claims that no person has a right to set up a restaurant within one mile of the grounds.

This year J. W. Piersol rented a piece of ground near the Camp grounds to William Applegate to conduct an eating stand after securing a mercantile license. It is claimed that the business he did injured the trade at the hotel on the grounds and as a result Clara Clinton, of Pittsburgh, who conducted the hotel, has refused to pay all of her rent alleging that the association did not protect her.

Suit has been brought against Applegate before Alderman Day of Monongahela. Applegate has taken the case into court.

Many of the places of business were open Sunday and did a thriving business.

FURNACE FIRED AT MONESSEN

Miss Bindley Applies
Torch to No. 2 at
Mill Plant

Further evidence of the substantial future of this district as a steel center was demonstrated at Monessen Thursday when Miss Adelaide M. Bindley, daughter of Vice President John Bindley of the Pittsburgh Steel company, applied the torch to blast furnace No. 2 of the steel company's plant. The ceremony was witnessed by many captains of the steel industry of the Pittsburgh district, who came to this city on a special train from Pittsburgh.

Three weeks last Tuesday a torch was applied to furnace No. 1 by Miss Sarah Rowe, daughter of President Wallace H. Rowe of the steel company. By the building of these furnaces the Pittsburgh Steel Company has become entirely independent in regard to its supply of raw material and the company is now in a position to use its own supply from the ore to finished products.

The furnaces are modern and have been built at a cost of approximately $4,000,000. More than 16 months was consumed in the completion of the furnaces. The furnaces are 90 feet in height, 22 feet 6 inches in the bore, and have a 16-foot wall. The output will be 40,000 tons of open-hearth basic steel ingots per month, or 70 cars per day.

The lighting of the furnace was witnessed by a party of steel men, who came to Monessen on the special train of J. B. Yohe, general manager of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, and a large number of the employees of the company. The party left Pittsburgh at 9 a. m. and arrived there at 10:30 o'clock. At 11 o'clock Miss Bindley ascended a platform

Klein Steamer

The excursion steamer, "Morning Star" owned and operated by J. F. Klein, of Pittsburgh, was burnt to the water's edge, at Monongahela this morning shortly after midnight. It had just returned from an excursion trip up the Monongahela river to North Charleroi and had just gotten off the crowd when the flames broke out. Efforts of the fire department of Monongahela proved unavailing to save the boat.

The cause of the fire is unknown. It originated in the check room, according to the story told by excursionists and by boatmen. All 4 men employed on the boat had hastened off when the flames were discovered. Before the excursionists had gone home more than 100 squares from the wharf, the alarm was turned in. By the time the fire department arrived the entire upper part of the boat was in flames.

Capt. Thomas Daly was in charge of the boat, though Mr. Klein himself was along. The excursion was being conducted by John Weber, of Castle Shannon, who is well known in Charleroi.

The "Morning Star" is the old "Island Queen," that was used for years in the excursion trade along the Monongahela valley. This summer the "Morning Star" carried the Elks excursion party from Charleroi to Brownsville.

The loss to Mr. Klein is not given. It is known that part insurance was carried on the boat. It is understood that the hull is still good and work comes from Monongahela that Mr. Klein will rebuild.

Denna Legong
Following an operation for appendicitis Denna Legong, of Granville, the 12-year-old daughter of Edward Legong, died at the Charleroi-Monessen hospital Thursday morning at 7 o'clock. The little girl had been ill of appendicitis and Wednesday at 11 o'clock she was taken to the hospital for an operation. She failed to rally. She was born in Belgium and came to this country with her parents when very young. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The interment was in the Highland cemetery.

and applied the torch amid the applause of the crowd. A short tour of part of the plant was made and at noon a buffet lunch was served in the office building, at the conclusion of which the party made an inspection tour of the huge plant, going through the mills while all were running full. At 3:45 o'clock the return trip to Pittsburgh was made.

Just discharged from the Memorial hospital, Monongahela, where he had been taken but a short time before, Harry Vernon walked to Charleroi Thursday to be afflicted by sunstroke about as quickly as he got here. He was cared for by the police. His home is in Denver, Col., and he has been trying to locate a job since the breaking up of a circus with which he was attached. He is a former hotel clerk.

The Demon Barber.

The story of the "Demon Barber," his misdirected energy and undue personal attention to customers, a story that has been made famous in ballad and on the stage, was this: He lived at 186 Fleet street, London, next to St. Dunstan's church. Under his shaving chair there was a trapdoor. When Mr. Todd, making some excuse, left his customer—or client, for this is now the gentles term—and went into an adjoining room he drew a bolt. The trapdoor turned over and threw the customer into a cellar. There he was murdered, and his body was made into mutton pies, which were sold at a neighboring shop at a reasonable price and much relished. This story was believed by all for many years, and Dickens mentions it in "Martin Chuzzlewit," yet it was without foundation.

Two More to Feed.
"You are a fraud! You said yesterday that you had seven starving children, and today you say you have nine."

"Both stories are true, sir."

"How do you make that out?"

CHURCH SPAT ENDS IN THE COUNTY COURT

O. S. McAdoo, Clarence H. Smith, Robert Miller and T. B. Narrigan, prominent citizens of Donegal township, charged with disturbing a religious meeting at Dutch Fork Christian church, Sunday, August 17, were discharged after a hearing before Justice J. W. Ralston in the public meeting room in the court house Thursday. Out of 20 witnesses summoned but 10 were called to the stand to give testimony. The public meeting room was crowded, there being a large number of spectators from the Dutch Fork section.

The charge against the four men came out of a factional contest among the members of the Dutch Fork congregation, one of which is opposed to Rev. T. B. H. Teeple continuing as pastor, and the other standing with the reverend gentleman.

From the testimony adduced at the hearing it appeared that the trustees announced that on June 1 a congregational vote would be taken on the question for re-employing Rev. Mr. Teeple for another year. On that date, it appeared, Trustee William Daugherty, who laid the charge against the men discharged by Justice Ralston, and who is a strong adherent of the pastor, announced to the congregation in substance that it had been agreed to re-employ Rev. Mr. Teeple for another year, if he was willing to accept, and there was no objection.

The evidence showed that on August 6 the opponents of Pastor Teeple held a congregational meeting and it was decided to submit the question to the congregation for a vote on August 17, the date on which the discharged members were alleged to have broken up worship. The record of the vote taken on that date shows 42 votes against retaining Rev. Mr. Teeple and 2 in his favor. The pastors' friends claim that a number of them equal to those who participated in the balloting, refrained from voting, hence the vote on that date cannot be taken as decisive.

Magistrate Ralston before going into a hearing, suggested that the matter be submitted to a jury of six persons, but his suggestion was not accepted. The outcome of the hearing Thursday puts a temporary stop to hostilities, but future action is predicted. Both sides were represented by counsel.

MONTOUR ROAD OPPOSED BY A PROPERTY HOLDER

Injunction proceedings have been started by George Schnuth, of Peters township to restrain the Montour Railroad company from constructing its line through the farm of Mr. Schnuth. September 1 at 11 o'clock has been fixed for a preliminary hearing, and a cautionary restraining order is granted against the company until that time.

It appears that Mr. Schnuth has on his farm an up-to-date brick residence and the slopes, etc., of the new railroad come within 12 feet of the porch of the house, and thus cut off ingress and egress. The company filed a bond for damages in the case some time ago, as they came onto the land and condemned it by the right of eminent domain.

RELEASE FROM LIEN IS FILED

A release from a lien of judgment was filed Thursday by R. H. Rush of Charleroi, against M. E. Riggs. Mr. Rush obtained judgment in the courts for $8,000 and $5,000, and a lien was placed on certain real estate in Charleroi. The judgments have been satisfied and the liens released.

Gaelic.
Gaelic is the language of the highlanders of Scotland. The name belongs also to the sister languages of Ireland and the Isle of Man, but these have other names more commonly applied to them—Irish and Manx—and the term Gaelic is usually reserved for that spoken in Scotland. The three languages were originally one and now stand in much the same relation to each other that broad Scotch does to king's English.

Misplaced Sympathy.
"You don't mean to say that Dugene is dead?"
"Yes, sir; and I married his widow."
"Dear me! You don't say! Poor fellow!"
"Don't be at all sorry for him, old man. He has the laugh on me all right."—Life.

Involuntary Fasting.
A remarkable feat of involuntary fasting was performed twelve years ago by a corporal in a regiment of French colonial infantry. On his way to work one morning a man heard cries proceeding from a disused mine near Brest. At the bottom of an excavation nearly 100 feet deep Corporal Andre Desrats was found in so weak a condition that he could scarcely articulate a word. When he recovered his rescuers learned that after accidentally falling into the mine Desrats had been imprisoned for twenty-eight days without anything to eat or drink. But a pig can beat a man. Dr. W. B. Carpenter in his "Manual of Physiology" records that a pig weighing 100 pounds was entombed by the fall of a portion of the chalk cliffs at Dover. It was dug out 100 days later and found to be still alive, but reduced in weight to forty pounds.—London Mail

THE COYLE-CHARLEROI
Childhood's favorite story, "Robinson Crusoe" was shown in a three-reel special at the Coyle Theatre Tuesday night. The story, which was the leading feature of the whole week's program. The tale of how Robinson Crusoe reached his island, where he lived for many tedious months a solitary existence, and showing how he and his man Friday got along, making their own clothing and getting from the land their own living, proved as thrilling or more thrilling in picture than in book form, and was very much enjoyed. There were other good features at the Coyle. On Monday a two-reel picture was presented "The Stranger," an Inup film. On the same night "Leopard Avenger" was shown in three reels. "Soul to Soul" was a two-reel film that was full of interest Wednesday night. Next week will be a good week at the Coyle, some unusually fine numbers having been programmed.

THE PALACE-CHARLEROI

The tabling narrative of how a man justly angry as the result of interference in his domestic affairs performed a deed that he was imprisoned for, of his wonderful escape and flight to a point outside the country and of events of his life and the life of his daughter there, was told in the three-part film "The Folly of Crime" shown at the Palace theatre Monday night. After fleeing from the country the erstwhile prisoner lived an exemplary life, and finally his daughter was wooed and wed by a young business man. A criminal who had met the father of the girl in the penitentiary tried hard to spoil the love affair when he found he could not blackmail the father, but failed ignominiously. Preparations are being made for the opening of the vaudeville season about the latter part of September. Manager Barnhart is contemplating a number of improvements.

THE LYRIC-CHARLEROI

The Pathe Weekly and a two-reel Cines production, "Honor Thy Father" were two of the leading features this week at the Lyric Theatre. The two-reel production was on Monday night and the Pathe pictures were on Wednesday night. "Honor Thy Father" was a strong drama of love and fortune, in which an heiress, tied down by a will made upon a death bed of her closest relative, and her lover, save her fortune and still wed. The Pathe pictures were views gathered from all parts of the world, starting with a convention at Brighton Beach, where the chief feature was marching of a large body of men. Emperor Joseph of Austria was shown but one of the most interesting pictures was that of the baseball scoreboard in front of the New York Sun office detailing a baseball game play by play. Thousands were shown watching the game. Every Wednesday night is Pathe night at the Lyric.

ALVIN-PITTSBURGH

That minstrelsy still holds a warm spot in the hearts of theatre-goers is best attested to by the success that has attended the revival of old time minstrelsy as presented by those veterans of the burnt cork, Primrose and Dockstader and their all-prominent aggregation of singers, dancers, comedians and instrumentalists. This attraction is scheduled to appear at the Alvin theatre on September 1, beginning with Labor day matinee. After a separation which had extended over a period of 10 years, those knights of the cork, decide to amalgamate their respective companies and present a revival of old time minstrelsy. This reunion and revival took place last year. Practically every city of importance in the United States and Canada were visited, and everywhere capacity audiences greeted them. In their revival of old time minstrelsy, Messrs. Primrose and Dockstader have adhered to all of the good old traditions, although the plain wooden benches and simple bones and tambourines have given away to sumptuous costumes and a large orchestra.
